YOUR EXPERIENCES ASHORE

Welcome on board for your cruise from Reykjavik, Iceland to New York, USA. Important information in regards to your Shore Excursion Experience: all guests who pre-booked their excursion tickets will find them upon arrival into your Suite. To participate on any excursion, all guests must be in the possession of a valid excursion ticket. For your convenience on your excursion ticket you will find the following important information:

- Name of your excursion.
- Departure time of your excursion.
- Departure location of your excursion.
- Cancellation deadline of your excursion.

As courtesy to your fellow guests we kindly ask you to arrive 5 to 10 minutes prior to the designated departure point to allow for a punctual departure. Excursions will depart on time and guests who arrive late will unfortunately miss their tour without possibility for a refund. Please note the cancellation deadline of your excursion.

Tickets returned after this deadline are subject to 100% penalty. Thank you.

Your Silver Dawn Shore Concierge Team.

DECK 5 EXT. 551
OPENING HOURS:
3:00 P.M. - 7:00 P.M.

REYKJAVÍK, ICELAND

The smoky bay

Reykjavik stands as a testament to the resilience and ingenuity of its people. Nestled on the southwestern coast of the island, this charming city is a harmonious blend of tradition and modernity.

Reykjavik's creation can be traced back to the settlement period of Iceland in the 9th century. Ingólfur Arnarson, an intrepid Norse chieftain, is said to have established the first permanent settlement in the area, marking the birth of the city. The name "Reykjavik" translates to "Smoky Bay," derived from the steam rising from the hot springs that dot the region.

As the centuries unfolded, Reykjavik evolved from a humble village into a bustling metropolis. In 1786, the city was designated as Iceland's official trading town, which spurred its growth and development. However, it wasn't until Iceland gained independence from Denmark in 1944 that Reykjavik truly blossomed into the vibrant capital it is today.

Despite its relative youth as a capital city, Reykjavik boasts a rich historical tapestry. Visitors can immerse themselves in the city's heritage at the National Museum of Iceland, which showcases artifacts spanning the nation's history, from Viking settlements to modern times. The majestic Hallgrímskirkja, an iconic Lutheran church, stands tall as a symbol of national identity and offers breathtaking views of the city from its tower.

Reykjavik's vibrant cultural scene is a source of pride for its residents. The city hosts numerous festivals throughout the year, celebrating literature, music, and the arts. The renowned Reykjavik International Film Festival draws filmmakers from around the globe, while the Iceland Airwaves music festival showcases local and international talent.

Nature weaves its way into the fabric of Reykjavik, providing an enchanting backdrop to city life. The neighboring geothermal fields and hot springs, such as the famous Blue Lagoon, offer a tranquil retreat for relaxation and rejuvenation. The nearby Mount Esja beckons adventure seekers, enticing them to embark on exhilarating hiking trails.

In recent years, Reykjavik has gained international recognition for its commitment to sustainability and renewable energy. The city is at the forefront of environmentally conscious practices, harnessing the power of geothermal energy and fostering a culture of eco-friendly living.

Reykjavik's creation and history are testament to the indomitable spirit of its people and the enchanting beauty of its surroundings. This small capital city, with its captivating tales and awe-inspiring landscapes, invites visitors to embark on a journey through time, exploring the rich cultural heritage and vibrant spirit that define Reykjavik.

PERLAN

Glittering like the upper hemisphere of a giant disco ball, Perlan (the Pearl) is a grand construction of steel and mirrored glass. Perched atop Öskjuhlíð, the hill overlooking Reykjavik Airport, it's also one of the first landmarks to greet visitors when they arrive to the city.
